Free Tax Prep Services and Family Fun at Super Saturday Event

United Way Collaboration Kicks off new tax season

Anchorage, AK – Free Tax Preparation Services kicks off another season with a Super Saturday event at the Northeast Community Center on Muldoon Road on January 30th from 10 a.m. – 2 p.m.

Super Saturday combines free tax preparation services with opportunities to learn about financial resources in the community. There will be an activity table for kids, snacks and door prizes. The event is free and open to the public.

During the last tax season, 5,132 federal tax returns were filed for Anchorage residents at no charge to the taxpayer. With an average tax preparation fee running approximately $200, this service saved Anchorage residents an estimated $1,026,400 dollars in tax prep fees and delivered $7,500,000 in refunds back to Anchorage families and our local economy.

“For many people in our community, paying for a tax preparer is not an option,” said Maureen Haggblom, Income Impact Director, United Way of Anchorage. “The money saved in service fees coupled with the volunteer preparer’s expertise to ensure refund dollars are maximized make for an important boost for people working to improve their financial stability. For some of our most vulnerable residents it can even mean another month of staying warm, housed and fed.”

Look for more free tax prep special events on February 10 and 20, April 2 and 18. In addition, thanks in part to AARP Foundation Tax-Aide who provides the majority of the program’s volunteer tax preparers, free, walk-in tax prep help is available at 10 sites across the community through April.

An online option is also available for those who want to prepare and file their own taxes for free at www.MyFreeTaxes.com. There is a $62,000 income cap to qualify for the online option and self-assisted computer-access sites are available in Anchorage.

Tax site locations, schedules and information, including a list of what to bring, can be found at www.FreeTaxPrepANC.com or by calling 2-1-1.

The Northeast Community Center is located at 1251 Muldoon Road. Tax prep slots are first come, first served and fill up quickly.

Free Tap Preparation is part of United Way of Anchorage’s Earn it. Keep it. Save it. initiative. The services are made possible by a collaboration among United Way of Anchorage, the Internal Revenue Service, AARP Foundation Tax-Aide, Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA), the National disability Institute, the fair-based community, individual volunteers, nonprofits and government service providers.
